Queen of the Random Job: Easy ways to work at home, supplement income, and build wealth.

June 3rd, 2009 10:25 am PT

- Are you out of work?
- Looking to supplement your income?
- Paying down debt towards debt freedom?
- Trying to make ends meet in a tough economy?
- Building the wealth of your savings account?
- Looking for extra ways to create play money?

If you said yes to any of the above, look to Bethany Mooradian, Queen of the Random Job. Bethany knows how to make a living from doing random jobs for income. So much so, she started her own business, Queen of the Random Job, to share not only what random jobs are out there, and where to find them, but how to avoid getting scammed in the process! Bethany has compiled her 10 years of research and experience as a Mystery Shopper into her new book and video, How to Become a Mystery Shopper. You can watch her intro video about mystery shopping at that link too!

History of Queen of the Random Job

Realizing her passion for puppeteering wasn't going to pay her bills, Bethany began looking into ways to supplement her income by doing random jobs such as mystery shopping, focus groups, and so forth. Ten years later, low and behold, she has now become an expert on spotting a work-at-home scam. She is here to not only show you how to find the good jobs but also to avoid getin scammed. Did I mention? Bethany has even become a home owner due to her success in doing random jobs to supplement her puppeteering income!

How is this green?

Working from home is a shade of green because you save resources by not commuting to work. Granted, if you mystery shop, you do have to commute to the place you are going to shop, but there are plenty of online opportunities for earning money as well! Bethany shows you how!
